

Arlington Woman Is Victim Of Swindle By Clever Operators

Fleeced Of Two Thousand Dollars By Flim Flam Artists In Boston

Victim of two young women clever flim-flam artists, a seventy-year old Arlington woman was fleeced of two thousand dollars of her savings on Wednesday, on Tremont street, Boston, after she had posted her savings as collateral for her share in $4500 which one of the swindlers stated she had found in an envelope in the street.

NO CASH SHOWN

According to police, the woman, Mrs. Nellie Rogers, of 78 Thorndike street, Arlington was first approached by one of the women swindlers, who was alone, and carrying the alleged packet of money. The second confederate entered into the conversation, police stated, a short time later, and they asked Mrs. Rogers what she would do with the packet of money. At no time, police say, did either of the swindlers reveal the contents of the package to Mrs. Rogers.

During the entire conversation police explained, one of the women said that she would take the "money packet" to her boss in a Tremont street office building, for safe keeping, and to seek his advice as to what definite course to take. On her return a few minutes later, she informed Mrs. Rogers that there was $4500 in the envelope, and that her boss suggested they split the money three ways.

PUTS UP $2000

It was at this point, police state, that one of the women flim-flam artists asked Mrs. Rogers if she would post $2000 collateral to share in the "found money," and Mrs. Rogers, police explained, agreed to withdraw the requested sum from the bank.

Such leaders and teachers would be needed in Woodcarving, clay modelling, hand-wrought jewelry, leatherwork, tray painting, knitting, interior decorating, dressmaking, furniture making,

Anyone feeling himself qualified and willing to conduct any one of the above programs, is asked to contact Mr. McFadden, at Arlington 5-3156.

Blood Donor Quota Is Far Short Of Last Year

Two Injured In Auto Crash

Two persons were injured shortly before midnight on Wednesday, in a two car crash at Massachusetts Avenue and Egerton street, in Arlington. Taken to the Symmes Arlington hospital, and held for treatment, were James L. Doyle, 45, of Egerton road and his wife, Flora, 43.

Doyle received a possible concussion and cuts and bruises while his wife was treated for rib and ankle fractures.

The car in which they were riding was in collision with one operated by Elmer F. Madar, 30, of Sherman road, Brookline. Madar was uninjured.

Democratic Town Com. To Meet

A meeting of the Arlington Democratic Town Committee will be held on Wednesday evening, December 1st, at eight o'clock, in the Hearing Room of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall. Paul C. Griffin, chairman, will preside.

Falling considerably short of the quota usually expected of the town, more than one hundred residents of the town showed up at the recent blood bank held here Nov. 16 and Nov. 17 under the auspices of the American Red Cross, at the St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Arthur W. Sampson, and Mrs. Russell T. Hamlet, were co-chairmen of the local blood donor bank.

Local residents who generously donated blood during war-time are receiving dividends in added health today, the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross said this week.

Arlington is among the Massachusetts communities whose physicians and hospitals have used $1,614 units of blood plasma, with a commercial value of about $1,632,000, distributed in Massachusetts since January, 1946.

Statement By George A. Harris

George Harris, candidate for the office of Selectmen, has issued the following statement:

"I am a candidate for the office of Selectman in the coming election. The pressure brought to bear on me by many citizens, in every walk of life and of all political creeds, cause me to make this decision. I believe I can do a good job, thanks to my long-time experience in Town affairs. I may have my faults, but I do not have the fault of underestimating what Arlington needs."

Cub Pack 86

The Spirit of Thanksgiving was exemplified at the Pack Meeting Friday night with skits called 'The First Thanksgiving', 'Tableau of Pilgrims Going to Church' and 'A Stolen Pie.'

The meeting was well attended by parents and boys with more than one hundred present. Mr. Daniel O'Grady addressed the group and outlined the purpose of Cub and what the boys had ahead of them. He expressed his appreciation to the four new den mothers, Mrs. John Prescott, Mrs. Winthrop Donovan, Mrs. Louis P. Renzetti, and Mrs. James A. Carlan, and stated there were now adequate leaders for the twenty-three new boys who had attended the previous meeting.

TWO LOCAL GIRLS IN FASHION SHOW

The girls are Miss Frances McCarthy, 4 Hawthorne avenue, and Miss Marie Helmich, of 12 Alton street. More than thirty-two models, who represented the various clubs of the college, modeled clothes featured at Diana Christine's Brattle Street, Cambridge, and furs as shown at Brody Brothers also hats from the Gertrude Singer Millinery Shop collection. CHARLESTOWN YMCA ASKS FOR VOLUNTEERS

The Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. 32 City Square, Charlestown, has again asked for volunteers from families in Arlington who may like to entertain servicemen in their homes on Thanksgiving Day. A call to Charlestown 2-2660, or to Miss Elizabeth Young, associate program director, will bring further information regarding this fine gesture. It is hoped that many Arlington house holders will respond to this call, in their usual spirit of hospitality and good will, as shown in years past.

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Arlington School Board, the question of substantial salary increases were requested of the School Committee, by representatives of the Arlington Teachers' Club, and the Arlington Men Teachers' Club.

The details of the proposals, according to Superintendent of Schools Clifford R. Hall, are as follows:

A committee representing the entire teaching body, asked for the adoption of a maximum salary scale of $4200, $4400, $4600, and $4800. The present maximum, according to Superintendent Hall, are $3860, $3560, $3760 and $3960. It is further proposed to the committee that step rate increases be at a rate of $200 annually, instead of $100, as at present.

A committee of three teachers appeared on behalf of the Men Teachers' Club, who asked the School Committee for a dependency allowance for married teachers, regardless of sex. This allowance it was suggested, would be $200 a year for a teacher with one dependent, and $100 a year for each additional dependent, up to a maximum of 500.

The School Committee will convene in special session tonight (Tuesday) to further consider the proposal as offered by the School teacher representatives.

Arlington Leadership Training School

The third year of the Arlington Leadership Training School came to a successful close recently at St. Johns Church on Pleasant st. Under the sponsorship of the Protestant Churches of Arlington this School has presented two splendid courses designed for the worker and layman interested in religious education: "How to Teach in the Church School" by the Rev. Milton F. Schadeegg, and "A Brief Survey of the Old Testament" by Rabbi Herman Harry Rubenovitz. The sustained attendance throughout the series attested to the popularity of the teachers and the interest of the students. A chapel period opened each session, led successively by Rev. David G. Colwell, Dean of the School, Rev. John Nicol Mark, Rev. Nathan Wood, Rev. Ronald Woodrow Ober, and Rev. Halsey Irwin Andrews. Because of her husband's illness, Mrs. Milton F. Schadeegg graciously substituted for him in the last session of his course on "How to Teach in the Church School."

Library Offers List Of Youth Movement Books

Teachers and workers of the various youth organizations in Arlington will be pleased to know that Mrs. Lucinda F. Spofford, Librarian at the Robbins Memorial Library, has compiled a pamphlet giving a very complete list of books which are of great assistance and value to youth leaders, and to those interested in youth movement work. The Library will be pleased to give out copies of the pamphlet upon request.

Old Town Hall Proposed As Site Of Bus Waiting Room

The Arlington Board of Selectmen, at their meeting last Monday evening, approved the recommendations brought forward by Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock, in the matter of relocating the two bus stops now located in Arlington Centre.

The action on the relocation of the bus stops and the decision to set up a much needed waiting room for bus patrons in Arlington Centre was the climax of several weeks, consideration on the part of the selectmen.

At the meeting it was voted to move the present bus stop in front of the monument at the Central Fire station, at the junction of Massachusetts avenue and Broadway, to the corner of Broadway and Medford street, and in this connection, the two parking meters formerly at this site have already been removed to make room for the new bus stop.

Further, the temporary bus stop now at Massachusetts avenue, adjoining the railroad crossing, has already been moved up nearer the Old Town Hall building and is now located at the crosswalks at the Old Town Hall and at the Arlington National Bank.

In this connection, the Arlington Chief of Police Bullock was also instructed by the Board to meet in consultation with the town engineer and the inspector of wires and make a recommendation on the safety island formerly used by the Hudson bus lines at the Soldiers' Monument. On account of the width of Massachusetts avenue, at this point, it may be considered advisable to retain the "island" as a safety measure.

Although the Board had already sent a notice to vacate to Mr.

Rush, a tenant at the Old Town Hall, under a lease which expires this coming December 15, advising him that it is not its intention to extend his lease beyond the date given, as the Board desired to convert the office space occupied by him into a bus waiting room.

On Monday of last week, Mr. Rush appeared before the Board and asked for an extension of time, in view of the fact that this is the busy season of the year for him, on account of the insurance of automobile registration plates and insurance for the coming year. The Board, however, made known its desire to take over the space as shortly as possible, in order that the travelling public may be protected against the advent of window weather conditions.

It is understood that the proposed waiting room will be strictly under the supervision of the custodian of the Old Town Hall during the daytime hours, and will be closed for the night by a police officer sometime in the early evening, after the usual rush hour of commuters. It is the intention of the Board to make this use of the waiting room until such date as a permanent terminal headquarters may be built upon the Peirce and Winn property sometime in the future.

The companies which use the bus stops in front of the proposed waiting rooms include the Lovell, Hudson and Eastern Massachusetts bus lines.

More Meat, Fat And Sweets In Christmas Care Packages

Good news for Europe is contained in the new CARE standard food package which has more meat, more fat, and more sweets. The revision is in line with CARE's policy of changing its package contents to meet Europe's changing needs.

In addition to consulting with health and nutrition experts in the United States and overseas, officials of non-profit CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe) paid special attention to suggestions received in letters from former CARE recipients before devising the new package contents. Those suggestions were typically summed up by one European who wrote: "Don't just send us calories. Send us food."

Major changes in the packages include the increase of canned meat items from three pounds to four and a quarter, and the addition of a pound of honey, a pound of lard, and two pounds of rice. Also, preserves have been substituted for dried fruits to satisfy the desire for sweets still further. Since the European grain situation has improved, it was possible to reduce the amount of flour from seven pounds to two, to permit this change.

The value of the new CARE package has been increased $1.50 in retail value. That was made possible, it was explained, by savings effected through CARE's bulk buying and shipping methods, plus an ocean-freight reimbursement voted by Congress out of Economic Cooperation Administration funds. However, the price of the package remains the same: $10, including guaranteed delivery to friends, relatives and needy beneficiaries selected by CARE's member welfare agencies.

Fire Department Issues Warning Of Fatal Fires

Cognizant of the increasingly danger of this time of year from careless operation of heating units in the home, the local fire department unites with the Board of Fire Underwriters, Inc., in calling attention to the several recent fires that have taken the lives of children in Greater Boston and points out that this is a season of many fire hazards.

Herbert L. McNary, Executive Manager, declares that the Boston Board reports show a great many fires being caused by defective and carelessly handled oil ranges and heaters. During months of idleness many have become clogged or rusted with the result of flash fires may result from any one of several sources.

Flash fires are caused by explosions. This means the igniting of some form of gas or vapor. Fuels give off vapor and if these accumulate under pressure even a static spark may be sufficient. There are cases on record of such fires being started by a cat walking through the room, static being generated from its fur.

It is because of vaporizing that a seemingly empty container can be more dangerous than a full container.

Make certain that your heater units are in good working order. It is advisable to use them during the daylight hours only in the beginning.

Do not forget the hazards arising from grass fires and the burning of leaves. The greatest loss of life from fire resulted when two women started burning leaves in a Peshtigo, Wisconsin back yard. The countryside was ravished and over 1200 lives were lost. This holocaust took place on the same day as the great Chicago fire, October 8, 1871, and for that reason has not been as well remembered. The law requires a permit to burn leaves. This year there is effective a new law which holds a person criminally and civilly liable and in addition permits assessing the responsible person for the cost of bringing out the fire department.

This is also the season of Halloween pranks which are and should be innocent. However, year after year, children's lives are lost. Under no circumstances should children be permitted to candles or toy articles containing candles. Usually these children are garbed in costumes that can easily catch fire and turn them into human torches.

We should be careful all the time, but at this season we should be particularly careful.

Warren St. AR 5-7700.

The past three meetings have been especially interesting and instructive with Committeeman "Zeke" Finch giving an excellent explanatory talk on the "Use of the Compass." This was followed by a discussion of "Map Symbols Used in Map Making" under Scoutmaster Franklin Fitch and the evening wound up with a patrol contest or "relay race" in the recognition and selection by competing patrol members of the symbols just discussed. Then came an evening of Home Movies, as taken and shown by Committeeman George Kramer, and a splendid talk on "Map Making and Sketching" under Committeeman Hal Masters. The play period was featured by a tug of war won by Jimmy Mansfield's Flaming Arrow patrol.

This year's three new Patrol Leaders are: Jim Mansfield Flaming Arrow, now ahead in this fall's patrol contest, "Jimmy Stevens Pioneer, and Francis Seery, Jr., Eagle. To end weight to the Troop's Green Bar "Board of Strategy" Johnny Gunnerson has succeeded Ronny Simonds as Troop Scribe, although the Troop is fortunate in still having Ronny Simonds available to lend his weight, in turn, in Troop Councils among the Senior Leaders.

So the season waxes with an ambitious group of Tenderfeet, plus a fair sprinkling of Second Class and First Class Scouts getting their bearings, so to speak, by the points of the compass and Travelling to her home with the two women swindlers, in a taxicab, the police said, Mrs. Rogers got a hank book and returned to Boston, with the two women, and agreed to meet them two hours later on the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral. In the meantime, police said, Mrs. Rogers withdrew twenty one hundred dollar bills from the bank.

At the appointed time, police explained, Mrs. Rogers met the two confidence women on the steps of the Cathedral, and the girl who said she found the money, stated that they would go to the Tremont street office building, where she would get the money from her "boss."

WOMEN VANISH

Asking Mrs. Rogers if she had her collateral, the swindler took the $2000 from the Arlington woman "in good faith," and said that she would return with the "money packet" in a few moments. She left Mrs. Rogers, police said, on the street floor of the building in the company of her confederate. A few minutes later, the second woman swindler asked to be excused for a few moments, while waiting for the return of the first woman, police said, and they then both disappeared.

Police describe one of the women swindlers as being thirty to thirty five years of age, 5 feet, 5 inches in height, with dark hair, and wearing a dark coat. Her confederate police state, was colored, 20 to 25 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, and wore her hair in a long bob.
